Learning to kayak should be fun. Individuals age 10-18 are free to advance at his or her own pace.

The Kids' Program is based on a program founded by Tom Long, developmental coach of the USACK Junior Team and owner of Cascade Raft and Kayak Company in Idaho.

The initial learning takes place at the McMurtrey Aquatic Center starting on June 1, 2009 Monday nights from 6-8 p.m.

Our kids learn about balance, entering and exiting a kayak, basic forward and sweep strokes, rescue techniques, and the Eskimo roll. Upon instructor approval, the students are taken to the lake or a flat section of the river for additional instruction on basic stroke and learning to paddle straight.

Before going on the river, kids learn river safety, which includes safety swimming, identifying and understanding river features, and river terminology. The kids also learn to respect the river. No one is allowed in the water without a life jacket and helmet.

The next step is putting to use the skills learned. Whitewater slalom is a perfect way to develop kayaking skills. Program participants have the opportunity to attend slalom clinics, river races, surf kayaking, and attend recreational paddles on weekends. Some of our students are encouraged to participate in the Junior Olympics.
